Westfield's economic development on the rise

Westfield, IN – Westfield Economic Development Director Matt Skelton announced today that economic development in Westfield is on the rise and permit numbers are significantly up from last year.

According to Skelton, single family home starts have risen by at least 60% from last year. As of May 15th, there have been 109 new home starts compared to 68 last year. "At first I attributed it to the homebuyer's tax credit but the numbers seem to be holding strong," says Matt Skelton. "I'm confident that the numbers indicate Westfield is the place people want to be."

Westfield officials recently announced that Kindred Healthcare has begun construction of its new facility on Carey Road and officials last week announced that CPS, Inc., a corrugated packaging manufacturer, will relocate to Westfield adding at least 20 new jobs. Additionally, two automotive businesses, Collision Cure Body Werks and Interbody Inc., have just announced plans to open new facilities in Westfield.
